NEW MORNING NEWSPAPER. (Registered Provisionally.)—Capital 400,000l. in 40,000 Shares of 10l. each. Deposit (as fixed by the Act of Parliament) 1s. per Share.

A general desire has long been expressed among all classes for the establishment of a Morning Newspaper, which should compete in all its departments with the greatest of its competitors. But the impossibility of finding any one individual wealthy enough to advance the necessary capital for such an enterprise has hitherto prevented the accomplishment of an object universally admitted to be desirable, and allowed to be certainly profitable.

Arrangements are now being made for the formation of a Company for the purpose of establishing a thoroughly honest and independent daily morning newspaper, which in every department shall be as complete as skill and capital can make it. To the commercial affairs of the country, its railroads and public works, it will pay special attention, and it is designed that no expense shall be spared to make it in all respects the Leading Journal of Europe.

The great profits of such an enterprise, if successful, are too well known to need description.

The title of this newspaper to be "THE MORNING MAIL."

Its principles to be strictly constitutional, but keeping pace with the spirit of the age; at the same time to be entirely independent of party.

That there is ample field for another great Morning Journal will be evident from these facts: That though readers have multiplied tenfold, there are no more morning papers now than twenty years ago. That the advertisements so crowd the existing papers that they are obliged to resort to the inconvenient practice of supplements to contain them, and that the day mails have everywhere substituted the morning for the evening papers.

The shares are fixed at so small a sum as 10l. in order to interest as many persons as possible in the prosperity of their Journal, and to secure its more certain independence of all party or personal interests. It is calculated that not more than 5l. per share will ultimately be called for, and the calls after the first will be made in sums not exceeding 1l. per share, and at intervals of not less than three months.

The shares will be allotted in the order in which the applications are received; but a preference will be given to Auctioneers, Solicitors, Directors of Companies, Booksellers, Hotel-keepers, and other large Advertisers.

In order that there may be the widest choice of Directors, the list will not be made up until the applications for shares are received. But in the mean while as a guarantee to the public that it is a substantial and respectable enterprise, it may be stated that the scheme was suggested and is conducted by the Proprietors and Editors of THE CRITIC, whose character is pledged to see the enterprise properly conducted to the point when the formation of the Company will place it in the hands of the Shareholders, and under the protection of the Act of Parliament which provides so amply for their security.

As it is desirable to ascertain as speedily as possible what encouragement the proposition is likely to receive, persons purposing to take shares are requested to forward applications, in the following form, to THE CRITIC Office, 29, Essex-street, Strand, London.

FORM OF APPLICATION.

To the Directors of the Joint Stock Newspaper Company.

Gentlemen,—I request you to allot me shares in The Morning Mail Newspaper, and I undertake to accept the same, or any less number, you may appropriate to me, and to pay the deposit, and sign the necessary legal documents when required.

THE PERFECT SUBSTITUTE FOR SILVER.—

The high estimate formed by the public during the ten years RIPPON and BURTON'S chemically purified material has been before it (made into every useful and ornamental article usually made in silver, possessing, as it does, the characteristic purity and durability of silver), has called into existence the deleterious compounds of "Albata Plate," "Berlin Silver," and other so-called substitutes; they are at best but bad imitations of the genuine article manufactured, with the view of satisfying the purchaser, by RIPPON and BURTON, and sold only by them.

NICKEL-ELECTRO-PLATED.—THE REAL NICKEL SILVER, introduced and made only by RIPPON and BURTON, when plated by the patent process of Messrs. Elkington and Co. is beyond all comparison the very best article, next to sterling silver, that can be employed as such either usefully or ornamentally. In the lengthened and increasing popularity of the material itself, and the high character of the method of plating, the public have a guarantee that the articles sold by RIPPON and BURTON (and by them only) are, as it regards wear, immeasurably superior to what can be supplied at any other house, while by no possible test can they be distinguished from real silver.

RIPPON and BURTON'S stock of General Furnishing Ironmongery is literally the largest in the world. They regret they cannot employ any language which will convey an adequate impression of its variety and extent; they therefore invite purchasers to call and inspect it.—RIPPON and BURTON, 39, Oxford-street (corner of Newman-street). ROWLAND'S ODONTO, OR PEARL DENTIFRICE.

A fragrant white powder, prepared from oriental herbs of inestimable virtue for preserving and beautifying the Teeth and strengthening the Gums. It eradicates tartar from the teeth, and thus lends a salutary growth and freshness to the gums. It removes from the surface of the teeth the spots of incipient decay, polishes and preserves the enamel, imparting the most pure and pearl-like whiteness; while, from its salubrious and disinfecting qualities, it gives sweetness and perfume to the breath. Being an anti-scorbutic, the gums also share in its corrective powers; scurvy is eradicated from them, and a healthy action and redness are induced, so that the teeth (if loose) are thus rendered firm in their sockets. As the most efficient and fragrant aromatic Tooth Powder ever known, Rowland's Odonto has for a long series of years occupied a distinguished place at the toilets of the Sovereigns and the Nobility throughout Europe, while the general demand for it at once announces the favour in which it is universally held.

Price 2s. 9d. per Box.

CAUTION.—To protect the public from fraud, the Hon. Commissioners of Stamps have directed the proprietors' name and address to be engraved on the government stamp, thus:—

A. ROWLAND & SON, 29, HATTON GARDEN.

Which is affixed on each box.

old by the Proprietors, and by Chemists and Perfumers.

GLEANINGS. ORIGINAL AND SELECT.

HONEY-TAKING IN INDIA.—A swarm of bees had fixed their abode on the ceiling of a verandah, and in due time when their honey was deposited, we wished to collect it, but were for some time at a loss for means. Hearing, however, that there was a gardener who possessed a peculiar art of doing it unhurt, he was sent for, and desired to bring down the honey. He took some of the plant called toolsy (black oeyum) and rubbed it over his body, face, arms, and hands; he then chewed a little, and held a sprig of it in his mouth. With no other than this apparently slight defence, he mounted a ladder, a large dish in one hand and a sharp knife in the other; and though as thinly clad as his class usually are, with thousands of bees swarming about his naked body, he, with the greatest sang froid, cut immediately through the upper part of the comb, where it was suspended to the roof, and, receiving the whole of it in the dish, brought it down without having suffered from a single sting.—Madras Atheneum.

The French Consul at Bahia has addressed a remarkable report to the Minister of Foreign Affairs at home, announcing the discovery, at the distance of eighty leagues from that capital, of an abundant mine of diamonds—a source of incalculable wealth to the province. It lies in a desert place, uninhabited, and scarcely accessible,—and was discovered by mere accident. The head of a rich English company has already exported, it is said, nearly 200,000*l.* worth of its produce; and as the working of the mine is left to any one who will, there is a race at present for its treasures. Eight or nine thousand emigrants, from all parts of Brazil, have already pitched their tents on the savage and unwholesome spot;—and to the inhabitants of a crowded European state, the very thought of a jewel-mine to be ransacked at pleasure—diamonds to be had for the fetching—is a temptation likely, we should think, to attract adventurers, even if the Upas tree stood in the way.

The Directors of the Dundee Lunatic Asylum suggest, in their twenty-fifth report, an interesting inquiry. "Among the characteristics of lunacy, one of the most striking is the two extremes which it presents of great mental excitement at one time and complete mental prostration at another; each of these changes occurring, too, in the same individuals without any apparent external cause. We may here observe what is well known, that damp and gloomy weather is apt to increase depression of spirits, and that clear and dry weather has a contrary effect: but these changes are generally evanescent, and by no means such as we now refer to. While under the influence of the alternate fits already mentioned, the lunatic is either supremely happy or wretchedly miserable. It is obvious, therefore, that it would be of the last importance to humanity, as well as to medical science, if the cause of such changes could be traced. All attempts to account for them have hitherto been fruitless; but, when we look to what has been effected within our own day in almost every department of science, we may surely be permitted to hope that ere long this too shall be ranked among the discoveries of philosophy. Were the genius of Liebig (the great chemist), for instance, applied to such an inquiry, who, we might ask, would venture to impugn or limit the investigation? Who could doubt the success of one who penetrates nature in her very inmost recesses, and always with the most useful and beautiful results? And what a glorious prospect does even the possible consummation of this discovery hold out to the friends of humanity? Worthy would it be of Liebig, and of the age which he adorns and benefits!"

THE CIVILIZATION OF AFRICA.—Medea, Aug. 8.—A caravan of black slaves, all females save one, and to the number of 68, have been just brought here by the Beni Mzabs. They encamped at two musket shots distance of the town, and opened their market. There were plenty of purchasers, nor did the young damsels who were to be sold appear sad or sorry. After making a purchase, the buyer examined the slave previous to payment, felt the limbs to see if they were sound, agitated something before their eyes to see if the sight was perfect, and looked into the mouth for the age. Each was exactly as if a cow or a horse was purchased. The price, which was but 120*l.* or 130*l.* up the country, here reached 500*l.* or 600*l.*—Courrier d'Afrique.

Mrs. Johnson, widow of the late Mr. James Johnson, who resides with her grandson, Mr. James Blagrove, tenant on the Castlemaine estate, in Kilkenny West, although in her hundred-and-second year, has the entire of this harvest bound and tied the corn after two reapers, competing with the servant-maid whose ridge would be done first and best. She has also carded and spun two stone of wool, to be manufactured into clothes for her great-grandchildren; and she has not only spun the wool for but also knit all the stockings she and they wear; and almost every Sunday walks to "the church that tops the neighbouring hill," immortalized by Goldsmith.—Westmeath Guardians.

THE SOLICITORS' and GENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

(Registered Provisionally.)

Capital 500,000*l.* in 10,000 Shares of 50*l.* each.

Deposit (in compliance with the provisions of the statute 7 & 8 Vict. c. 10, under which the Company is provisionally registered) 5*l.* per Share.

PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUS.

It is certain that most of the Life Insurances in the United Kingdom are effected through the medium of the Solicitors. But the Solicitors receive only a very small proportion of the great profits they bring to the Insurance Companies—a trifling Commission being all that is allowed to them.

A plan has been matured and approved by the members of the Profession for securing to the Profession by whom the business is obtained a portion of the profits of that business, and at the same time for offering to their clients and the public all the security and advantages of an Office conducted upon the most liberal, but safe, principles which experience has proved to be practicable.

The plan is this:—

The Assured to have the Security of a Capital of 500,000*l.* in 10,000 shares of 50*l.* of which, however, not more than 5*l.* per share will be required to be paid up, probably not above 2*l.* 10*s.*; deposit 5*l.* per share. On the Capital advanced the Shareholders are to receive Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, certain, and, in addition to this, a dividend of one-fifth of the profits, after deduction of 10 per cent. therefrom, to be applied to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund afterwards mentioned. Provision will be made paying off the shares at any time that it may be deemed expedient by the Profession so to do, at their then market value.

Three-fifths of the profits of the Insurance branch of the Office will be divided triennially among the Assured, in the form of bonuses, as customary with other offices.

The REMAINDER OF THE PROFITS, subject to a deduction of ten per cent. (to be applied to the Widows' Fund), will be DIVIDED ANNUALLY AMONG THE SOLICITORS BY WHOM THE BUSINESS HAS BEEN TRANSACTED, in reasonable proportion to the sum paid by each during the year for which such profits are calculated; or, at the option of the party, policies may be taken in lieu of such share of the profits.

This share of the profits to be in addition to the usual commission, which will be allowed on all transactions.

It is further proposed to secure for the Profession an advantage it has long wanted; namely, to connect with the establishment a Widows' and Orphans' Fund, or Nominee Society, by which Solicitors may secure Annuities for their families in case of death. It is to the increase of this Fund that the deduction of ten per cent. from the profits to be divided among the Shareholders and Solicitors is to be applied.

The Scale of Premiums will be the same as that adopted by the safe and respectable offices.

The Solicitors' Office will avail itself of all the arrangements which, in other offices, have been found to offer conveniences to the assured.

It will make Loans on Deposit of Policies.

It will grant Annuities.

It will purchase Reversions and Policies of Insurance.

It will insure specially on Special Risks.

It will grant Endowments for Children.

It will meet the difficulties so often experienced by insurers, in consequence of the necessity for fixed Annual Payments required under all circumstances, or forfeiture of the Policy, by a plan that permits the Premium to be varied according to the necessities of the assured; and by which, even if the payment should cease, the policy would not be forfeited, but the value of that actually paid would be secured to his family.

The Profits of an Insurance Office being wholly dependent upon the amount of business, it is obvious that if the Solicitors of the United Kingdom will avail themselves of their own Office for the purpose of securing to themselves the large profits they now take to others, the business of their Office must speedily exceed that of all other offices in the kingdom; and the profits will, consequently, be so great, that the division of them between the Assured and the Solicitors in the manner proposed will secure to both advantages such as could be offered nowhere besides.

It may be added, in conclusion, that this plan has been long in preparation. It has been already submitted to the Profession and received their warm approval. The Shareholders incur no risk, for interest will be allowed upon their advances from the date of payment; and the arrangements of the Office, and the names of the Directors and Officers, will, it is believed, be such as to guarantee the utmost respectability and the most prudent management.

As it will be desirable that as many shares as possible should be taken by the Solicitors, preference will be shown to them in the allotment; and, in order to extend the allotments over as many applicants as possible, no more than fifty shares will be allotted to any one person.

Applications for Shares to be made in the usual form, with address and references, to Messrs. WATTS, GALSWORTHY, and GALSWORTHY, 19, Ely-place, Solicitors to the Company.

METROPOLITAN SEWAGE MANURE COMPANY.

(Registered Provisionally.)

Capital 1,500,000*l.* in 30,000 Shares of 50*l.* each.

Deposit 1*l.* per Share.

The object of this Company is to supply (at a quarter of the cost of stable or farm-yard manure) the sewage water of the metropolis to the surrounding country as manure, by mechanical means, similar to those employed by the water companies.

A careful and moderate calculation has been made of the annual outlay and income, from which it can confidently be stated that the undertaking will realize a net profit of at least 15 per cent.

Prospectuses, containing full particulars of the plan and extracts from the reports and authorities upon which the estimates are based, may be had on application at the temporary offices of the Company, No. 5, Berners-street, or will be forwarded to any address.

Applications for shares to be made in the usual form, addressed to the Provisional Committee of the Metropolitan Sewage Manure Company, at Messrs. Bailey, Shaw, and Smith's, 5, Berners-street.

Guy's New Universal Spelling Book, 12mo. red sheep, lettered, 1s. 6d.

"This very excellent Spelling Book is arranged somewhat on the plan of Mavor, but upon an easier and more comprehensive system. The Reading Lessons are most entertaining and instructive; and the many woodcuts that adorn it are of a very superior order. We have no doubt but that it will meet with a sale equal to its merits. It richly deserves the patronage of schoolmasters and others employed in tuition."—Review.

"This cheap little work is compiled by a practical man, and if children are to get by heart portions of Geography, relating to the History, Productions, and Curiosities of different Counties, such a compilation as this will be found better adapted for that purpose, as an introductory book on Geography, than Pinnock's and others, arranged on the catechetical form."—SCHOLASTIC JOURNAL.

Kenny's Grammatical Spelling Assistant, on the plan of Carpenter, 12mo. sheep, 1s.

"The present volume is one of the best School Books that has lately come under our notice; being one of those many improvements upon the old system of tuition which the march of intellect has produced, for the speedy improvement of youth. The Scholar possesses in this Book, not only the advantage of appropriate meanings to the words of the English language, but may at the same time, from the annotations prefixed to each page, acquire an effective mode of expressing his ideas with elegance and propriety. The several improvements over other books of the same kind, must eventually gain general approbation; and we have no doubt that the meritorious labours of the author will be crowned with the most flattering success."—SCHOLASTIC JOURNAL.
